GIVE FOR THE "LIFE OF A CHILD" is the slogan for the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes, now under way throughout Mississippi and the nation, according to Dr. A. L. Gray, left state health officer and state chairman for the fifth straight year. Owen Cooper, right, industrialist and civic leader of Yazoo City, is serving for the ninth consecutive year as associate state chairman. The March of Dimes now fights three crippling diseases — birth defects, arthritis and polio.

"Action has characterized the March of Dimes throughout twenty-five years fighting disease," said Dr. A. L. Gray, State Health Officer, who heads this annual January fund appeal in Mississippi for the fifth straight year.

Several fund raising activities will be underway throughout the month in Hancock County according to Mrs. Theo Tudury of Bay St. Louis who heads the local campaign.

Serving as associate state chairman for the ninth consecutive year is Owen Cooper, industrialist and civic leader of Yazoo City.

Dr. Gray, in pointing to the action program of the March of Dimes, said, "It is one of the best examples I have seen of people helping themselves." He noted the success of March of Dimes financial research in producing two vaccines which have markedly reduced polio as an annual summer-time threat to our people.

But, we have other "mountainous" health problems facing us, Dr. Gray stated. "Top-quality medical care, often capable of changing the whole life prospect of infants and children with crippling disorders, yet unavailable to many of these patients, is the goal of the March of Dimes."

A special Birth Defects Treatment Center at the University Medical Center in Jackson is now in its second year of operation. Supported by March of Dimes grants from all Mississippi chapters in the amount of $56,000 for two years, the center has as its primary objective better care for the 5,750 (1 out of 16) babies born in the state each year with a birth defect.

This center is one of a network of over fifty across the nation for birth defects, arthritis and polio. The centers are affiliated with more than half the nation's medical schools.

Each center provides continuous and comprehensive care for inpatients or outpatients by special members of "health teams." In the case of birth defects, this would mean a pediatrician, a pediatric neurosurgeon, urologist, orthopedist, physical therapist, medical social worker, psychologist or psychiatrist and others. Similarly, all of the special medical and other skills needed for the study and treatment of arthritis are enlisted in the "health team" at the arthritis center.

is centers sponsored by the March of Dimes.

"The thoughtful and compassionate generosity of the American public has permitted the March of Dimes to make some headway in meeting the research and medical care problems posed by 250,000 infants born each year in our country with significant birth defects, and the thousands of children and adolescents crippled by some form of arthritis or rheumatic disease," Dr. Gray said.

Mr. Cooper said, "What we are achieving through our treatment centers may seem breathtaking and miraculous to some people. But the underlying principle involved here is really very simple. It has been the guiding principle of The National Foundation-March of Dimes throughout its first quarter century, the anniversary of which we observe this month. It is this:

"Do something to prove that the best care can be brought out of our great medical centers and hospitals to America's doorstep in every town and village. That's the March of Dimes in a nutshell."

Eighty percent of total net March of Dimes contributions by Mississippians since the National Foundation was organized in 1938 has been used in the state for care and rehabilitation of polio, arthritis and birth defect patients; and for scholarships, polio vaccine, and research grants to the University Medical Center. The remaining twenty percent has helped finance research with only five percent going for administrative purposes.

"An incomparable record and a plan for the future," is the way Dr. Gray and Mr. Cooper described the March of Dimes as they joined county leaders in calling for everyone to "Give for the life of a child," which is the campaign slogan.

DRUG TRAFFIC

The production, distribution and use of dangerous and habit-forming drugs in Mississippi will be studied by a special committee. "More states have much more rigid control of the manufacture and distribution of drugs than does Mississippi," Governor Ross R. Barnett said in a prepared statement released at a news conference.

"The extent of illicit traffic in drugs harmful to human health is not known," he added, "but is believed to be of considerable magnitude."

BUSINESS IN 1963 LOOKS GOOD IN STATE

Speaking on the subject, "Mississippi's Economic Outlook for 1963," Dr. W. C. Flewellen, dean of the School of Business and Industry at Mississippi State University, told members and guests of the Downtown Kiwanis Club that "for 1963, business looks good in Mississippi."

Dr. Flewellen, prominent economist predicted that state revenues will show a $14 million surplus by the end of the current biennium. Pointing out an example of what could be a disaster to the state's economy, he said "Mississippi is still predominantly an agricultural state, and one bad crop year could drastically drop state revenue."

"Mississippi business did not dip during the recent recession as did the national average. The Mississippi business index moved from 139 in December of 1961 to 159 through October of 1962, for an increase of 14 per cent."

"Personal income in Mississippi is up 8.3 per cent in 1962, and another 5 per cent rise is predicted for 1963. This is higher than any other state in the South except Florida," he added.

FARM OUTLOOK FOR 1963

Growth of agriculture in 1963 will be limited largely to the increase in population, according to forecasts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. USDA economists predict that there will be little change in overall farm production, farm prices, and farm marketing.

Domestic demand for farm foods and fiber are expected to increase about one and one-half per cent in line with population growth. Biggest change in farm production is the gain in cattle numbers, cattle slaughter, milk and egg production and a decline in grain production. In no section is there more marked than in Mississippi where cattle raising has grown by leaps and bounds and broiler production has skyrocketed.

Unless the new Congress act to increase 1963 cotton acreage allotment there should be still greater incentives for Mississippi farmers to increase cattle, milk, and poultry production. Meantime the large number of small farmers in Mississippi who own about 12,000,000 acres of timber lands in small tracts should be encouraged to adopt better management practices of their woodlands. The winter time is the best time to work in the farm woodlands. Farm owners can remove worthless trees, make other improvement cuttings, make any needed plantings and otherwise improve their woodlands.

GOLDEN EGGS...

Private enterprise is the goose that lays our golden eggs. This American System of capitalism has done more for more people than any other political economy, past or present.

Even Khrushchev, in announcing a major shake-up within the Soviet Union, confessed the shortcomings of Communism, and suggested it might be necessary to adopt a little Capitalism with its profit incentives.

American Capitalism is the envy of the whole world, not only for what it does but for what it stands. It feeds and finances not only its own, but millions of less fortunate everywhere.

Envious foreign foes smear Capitalism as imperialism — even non-believers here at home call it ugly names. But capitalism has given our people the highest standard of living known to mankind, and has cultivated in our nation a moral fiber and determined spirit that have helped to make us the symbol of a free world.

The world conflict today is between Capitalism and Communism. Make no mistake about that! This war of ideologies is for the capture of men's minds and souls. On the outcome of this struggle depends the freedom of the individual and the security of our country and the world.

Our great American system is no fanciful dream. It has been tested and proved. It continues to provide more health, happiness, and prosperity for the common man than has any political system since the creation of organized government. Capitalism, with its profit-or-loss private enterprise system, is the core of our thriving economy. The efforts to destroy it must be stopped.

If it is to be preserved, Mississippians — and all Americans — must neither cripple nor kill this goose that lays our golden eggs.

FACTS OF LIFE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jimmy was so fascinated by his new goldfish that we thought he'd forgotten about the other one. Then, suddenly, he looked up and asked, "Mommy, will this one die too?"

I tried, as gently as I could, to tell him that, in time, all things die. And as I did so, I realized how valuable it is for a child to have even as small a pet as a goldfish. For in observing a pet — even in suffering the loss of one — a child begins to learn a great deal about life, in a natural and understandable way.

But I warned myself, it is important to realize that he is learning only the visual, material part of the lesson. In order to understand what he is seeing, and what he is feeling, he must be taught its spiritual meaning. This is why religious education is so important. That is why Jimmy attends church with us... and he'll start church school, next fall.

MISSISSIPPI FARMERS SHOULD BUY SEED PRODUCED IN MISS.

CLARKSDALE, Miss.—Mississippi farmers would do well to buy cotton planting seed produced by members of the Mississippi Certified Cotton Seed Growers Exchange, says the president of that organization. The Exchange is made up of growers of officially certified cotton seed.

Purity of the seed and the proof of many years of experience in getting a satisfactory stand were cited by John W. Nance, Jr., of Clarksdale, president of the group, in urging Mississippians to plant seed which is grown, certified, sampled and tested under supervision of the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, the state's official seed certifying agency.

"Many of the state's best producers, men who have made their living producing cotton for the markets of the world, have planted seed certified in Mississippi for many years," said Mr. Nance. "Our seed also is in demand in other areas of the country, but I sometimes wonder if enough farmers of Mississippi realize the value of planting seed certified in this state. Varieties developed by our plant breeders are among the best known in the world, and our certifying agency is recognized everywhere cotton is grown."

"Getting a full stand of the desired variety, with healthy, strong-growing, full-bearing plants means money in the farmer's pocket at harvest time," he said. "Cotton is our state's most important crop and our entire economy depends on it. Records prove conclusively the importance of planting seed of known pedigrees of the good varieties developed and grown here. We know they're adapted to our climate and other conditions."

Mr. Nance pointed out that according to records of R. P. Colmer, chief inspector of the State Plant Board of Mississippi, the state always has been free of the pink bollworm.

"Using seed grown under the strict Mississippi certification program is one way of insuring continued freedom from the pink bollworm," Mr. Nance said. "In addition, there is the assurance of the purity of variety, which cannot always be said of seed which comes in from other cotton producing areas, especially when these seeds are not properly identified and with no recognition of official certification."

MISSISSIPPI FARMERS SHOULD BUY SEED PRODUCED IN MISS.

CLARKSDALE, Miss.—Mississippi farmers would do well to buy cotton planting seed produced by members of the Mississippi Certified Cotton Seed Growers Exchange, says the president of that organization. The Exchange is made up of growers of officially certified cotton seed.

Purity of the seed and the proof of many years of experience in getting a satisfactory stand were cited by John W. Nance, Jr., of Clarksdale, president of the group, in urging Mississippians to plant seed which is grown, certified, sampled and tested under supervision of the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, the state's official seed certifying agency.

"Many of the state's best producers, men who have made their living producing cotton for the markets of the world, have planted seed certified in Mississippi for many years," said Mr. Nance. "Our seed also is in demand in other areas of the country, but I sometimes wonder if enough farmers of Mississippi realize the value of planting seed certified in this state. Varieties developed by our plant breeders are among the best known in the world, and our certifying agency is recognized everywhere cotton is grown."

"Getting a full stand of the desired variety, with healthy, strong-growing, full-bearing plants means money in the farmer's pocket at harvest time," he said. "Cotton is our state's most important crop and our entire economy depends on it. Records prove conclusively the importance of planting seed of known pedigrees of the good varieties developed and grown here. We know they're adapted to our climate and other conditions."

Mr. Nance pointed out that according to records of R. P. Colmer, chief inspector of the State Plant Board of Mississippi, the state always has been free of the pink bollworm.

"Using seed grown under the strict Mississippi certification program is one way of insuring continued freedom from the pink bollworm," Mr. Nance said. This gain brought our total population to 2,248,000 — 3.2 per cent increase which was better than the gain registered by 22 other states. It is a most encouraging advance, since Mississippi had lost

March of Dimes Helps Save Boy

Here's Johnny at age one after first operation... and today, leading a normal life at age four.

At his fourth birthday party, Johnny Wilson's big blue eyes sparkled as his mother carried in the most magnificent cake he had ever seen.

It was shaped like a huge boat plowing its way through mountainous waves of whipped cream and icing. Johnny's wide smile beamed at friends and he gave out kisses all around.

It was a happy affair. Yet at one time, Johnny's parents had little hope he would live to celebrate even his first birthday. For he was born with the often fatal birth defect of water on the brain, or hydrocephalus.

Surgical treatment saved Johnny's life when he was three months old. At that time, doctors performed what is known as a shunt operation. They inserted in Johnny's head a plastic tube which allowed excess fluid from the brain to be harmlessly absorbed by the youngster's body.

Without the operation, fluid within the brain is prevented from taking its normal course, and causes the head to swell enormously. This is what had happened to Johnny. (If shunt surgery is not performed in time, mental retardation and blindness may ensue, even death, in certain cases.)

Since 1958, doctors have performed two other shunt operations and have treated Johnny for gastroenteritis and septicemia.

Today, Johnny leads a relatively healthy, happy and carefree life. Like any other little boy who lives on a farm, he loves to hug lambs, chase cows and tease chickens on the family's 100 acres near Columbus, Ohio.

He is a good example of thousands of afflicted children being helped to live nearly normal lives through a unique medical care program financed by The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Babies with birth defects are born every other minute in the United States, 250,000 of them each year, almost 700 each day. Johnny goes regularly to a special Birth Defects Clinical Study Center at Children's Hospital, Columbus, supported by March of Dimes funds.

It is one of more than 30 similar centers across the nation set up for the study and treatment of birth defects.

At the center, trained specialists work together to help children with many kinds of birth defects. They include a neurosurgeon, orthopedic surgeon, internist, psychiatrist, physical therapist and medical social worker. They have put their skilled hands and minds to work on Johnny's behalf.

Every four months, Johnny's mother drives him to the center for his check-up. A doctor always measures his head to make sure there is no change in size. Since 1959, his head size has remained relatively constant.

Like Johnny, other afflicted children who receive proper treatment may live to enjoy shooting cap pistols, watching television, singing songs or playing a toy band—with the best of four-year-olds.

Members of the Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion at 7 o'clock Mass Sunday morning in Our Lady of the Gulf Church with a breakfast following in the school cafeteria.

Fishing is getting better right along and should improve as the weather gets warmer. Most fish are being caught by trolling both salt and fresh water.

Hunting is on the way out with goose hunting, snipe and woodcock seasons closing about the middle of January. Quail season opened on Dec. 1, and runs through February 8th. Bag limit 8 per day, 16 in possession.

Some local hunters have been killing some woodcock here about and in Louisiana. Woodcocks are fine eating, not to big and hard to hit. They are mostly hunted with dogs but can be kicked up by walking in wet places such as ravines.

After the holidays local hunters and fishermen will be getting back to normal and plans are being made for real fishing trips.

Tony Enterante, Jr., and Morris Daniels, Jr., made a nice catch of salt water fish in Higgins Slip at Michoud. They caught specks, red fish and small drum. It was a field-day said both boys.

Tony Enterante, Sr., August Laxout and Dec Elliott made an overnight trip to the Louisiana marshes during the holidays on a hunting trip. They did fairly well and had a wonderful trip.

Leroy Luke says he is fixing up his camp on the bayou and expects to catch up on his fishing. He has some good fishing stories, too.

Yours Truly spent the holiday in New Orleans fishing, golfing, visiting relatives, etc. There's no place like home, however.

Visited Brand's Sporting Goods in Gulfport. It is interesting to know that they repair all kinds of fishing tackle, guns, etc. This should be of interest to local sports. Mr. and Mrs. Brand are congenial folks and are courteous to their customers.

Met a swell guy in A. J. Salodino, owner and operator of Victor's Cafe on Chartres St., in New Orleans. A. J. showed us over his property which contains a swimming pool and rooms on an upstairs balcony. He said this place was the original home of John McDonough who gave so much to education in New Orleans. His statue stands in Lafayette Square. Victor's Cafe is a fix-his attractions are Laurel Goodwin, exciting new screen personality and Stella Stevens in this Hal Wallis, Technicolor extravaganza that includes TV star Jeremy Slate in its cast.

Neal Blackney is a real sportsman. His favorite sport being kidding others. You made a good job of me, Neal.

E. Robertson of Metairie, La., loves his fishing. He and his buddy had a hard time on a fishing trip during the holidays on Lake Pontchartrain when they encountered some real rough seas. Ed said he was glad to be on land again.

Russell Ockert and Ralph Dennis are ardent fishermen, they were telling us where and how to catch'em, and they were right. Good fishing, fellows.

When visiting Schwegman on Hi-way 90 at Gentilly it is good to know "Patches" Marion Mortelaro who is a bartender and knows how to mix'em. "Patches" loves sports, too.

Robert Mandel, Long Beach, talks good hunting and fishing but claims he hasn't time to go but loves to eat game. They will be coming "Bob". Be patient.

Another place to know is Flynn's Tackle Shop on Hi-way 90 at Chef Menteur. They have live shrimp and minnows the year round. The owners are courteous and can tell you where to go. Ask them to show you their map on fishing places. You'll learn something.

Rochelle Annette Stieffel, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stieffel, was baptized Sunday afternoon in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with the Rev. Dennis Harlow officiating.

Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gayard.

Tammy Aline Favre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Favre, was baptized Sunday afternoon at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church with the Rev. Dennis Harlow officiating.

Sponsors were a paternal uncle, Bruce Favre, and a great-aunt Mrs. Leonie Monti.

Sgt. and Mrs. Michael Shiyou announce the birth of their second child, a son, Hugh William, December 30, at Fort Sill, Okla.

Mrs. Shiyou is the former Juanita LaFontaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus LaFontaine, Lake Shore. Parental grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Crayton Shiyou of Bay St. Louis.
